

MASTER CLOSET

DIANA MOLL, D'S DECLUTRR, LLC

Tip: "Even the tidiest person can still struggle with closet organization. Closets fit everything from shirts to shoes to miscellaneous storage, which can all become quickly messy. While it may seem to be a big job you can easily break it down into simple steps. Ready to take the plunge and reorganize your bedroom closet? One thing that I suggest for my clients is to have a Catch All Basket. You can use it when you change out your purses. Can include loose change, receipts, different size wallets, sunglasses, hair clips.."

Walking into a perfectly organized, clutter free walk in the closet is like a dream come true. That was the plan when starting to work on Samantha's master closet. First step to creating closet zones is to take inventory of your belongings and identify designated places to store everything: Long Hang (coats, skirts and dress) Seasonal (upper storage shelving is perfect for seasonal or less frequently used items), Jewelry (keep everyday personal items at waist height in a drawer or on a shelf) Shoe Shelves (favorite shoes should be easy to reach) Extra storage (top shelves are perfect for bulkier items), Double hang (arrange your collection by category, such as shirts on top and pants on the bottom). One thing you need to keep in mind when to start organizing is frequently used items should be front and center so you are able to see exactly what you have, "prime real estate, even in your closet."
